TEN PAGES—THREE CENTS

99,000 KILLED IN ACCIDENTS DURING 1935

365,000 Permanently
Injured; 41 very Hour

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(P)—Ninety-nine thousand Americans died in accidents last year—one every six minutes. That was the tabulation announced today by the National Safety Council. The total bill for American carelessness was added up to approximately $3,000,000,000 in property damage, wage loss and medical expense. Council statisticians told the story in these grim figures: 99,000 killed, 365,000 permanently injured, 1,100,000 temporarily disabled; 371 killed every day, 11 every hour, one every six minutes 25,000 injured every day, 1,000 every hour, 16 every minute; 1,600 permanently injured every day, 41 every hour. They noted a drop of 3,000 from 1934 but pointed out the heat and drought of the latter year claimed 3,250 lives. Motor vehicle crashes brought death to 36,400, an all-time high, permanent injury to 107,000 and temporary hurts to 1,175,000. Monetary loss in this bracket was set at $1,600,000,000. There were 31,300 fatalities in home accidents, a decrease of nine per cent from 1934. Falls accounted for about 44 per cent of them with burns, scalds, asphyxiation, firearms, poison and cuts other leading causes. There were 4,600,000 injuries. Monetary loss was set at $380,000,000. Occupational deaths totaled 16,500 and injuries 1,400,000. Their cost was reckoned at $620,000,000. This was a slight increase but industrial activity was at a higher level. A duplication of 3900 deaths in the automobile and occupational classes was pointed out. Public accidents other than those previously listed resulted in 17,500 deaths. Drownings, falls and fireworks and firearms were included in this category. The council stated the death rate per 100,000 population in the United States had declined from 85.5 in 1912 to 77.8 in 1935 due chiefly to the application of safety measures. It expressed confidence the five year campaign designed to reduce motor vehicle fatalities 40 per cent would force a still greater reduction. The drive was started Jan. 1 on a nation-wide scale but statistics on its progress will not be available until late this month.

FASCIST GRAND COUNCIL ISSUES STIFF WARNING

Claim New Sanctions Will Result In Opposition

Rome, Feb. 4.—(P)—Italy, through the Fascist Grand Council, warned the world today new sanctions will bring opposition along a "definitely fixed line of counter-action." The council, in session for the second time in four days, determined its future course of action, but declined to disclose its nature. Informed circles were quick to recall, however, the recent admonition in Benito Mussolini's newspaper, Popolo d'Italia, that sanctions will ultimately mean a blockade and a blockade will be war.

Second Victim Of Snakeroot Poison

Collinsville, Ill., Feb. 4.—(P)—Snake-root poisoning—apparently caused by milk contamination in a cow that had eaten the plant—claimed its second victim today in a family of nine stricken last November. Miss Ulla Sepmeyer, 60, Peters station, died today of the malady to which her sister, Clara Sepmeyer, 46, succumbed Nov. 2, eighteen hours after drinking the milk. A brother, W. C. Sepmeyer, said seven other members of the family had been left in a weakened condition by the ailment, which impairs functioning of the liver. None are believed critically ill.

Permanent Registration to Be Considered by Assembly At Third Special Session

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 4.—(P)—Gov. Henry Horner took steps to retaliate against the political opposition of the Kelly-Nash Democratic organization today by calling a third special legislative session to consider the permanent registration of Chicago voters and consolidation of Chicago parks.

The third session, to convene tomorrow noon, will run concurrently with the first and second special sessions on social security and unemployment relief. The major fight was expected to be waged on efforts of Horner Democrats and many Republicans to require that voters in Chicago be registered permanently. They have contended that thousands of fraudulent votes are cast in Chicago wards, making an honest count impossible. State house opinion was that it would be difficult to pass a permanent registration bill over the opposition of legislators allied with the Chicago Democratic organization, which is supporting Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the Chicago board of health, for governor. In another direct attack upon his major political enemy, Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago, the governor asked the legislature to withdraw laws that permitted the consolidation of the Chicago park districts.

Horner Democrats have contended that extravagance, rather than economy, resulted from the consolidation, which removed a major source of patronage from the state administration. Four other subjects were placed before the third session for action. One granted the request of labor leaders for changes in the occupational diseases act to comply with supreme court objections. Labor and industrial leaders were understood to have agreed upon a bill. This topic was placed before the first special session, but an agreement had not then been reached and claims were made that the call was not broad enough to permit consideration of the entire subject. In addition to legislative expense appropriations, the assembly was authorized to amend the security act to permit the sale of bonds containing the word "gold" and to pass bills relating to storage of grain in warehouses. Attorney General Otto Kerner ruled last summer that Illinois law prohibits the sale of "gold" bonds, even if they are stamped to show that the federal statutes have forbidden payment in gold.

Leisure Class Is Defended By J. P. Morgan

Says Civilization Will Perish If It Is Destroyed

Washington, Feb. 4.—(P)—In the midst of testimony harking back to America's course during the World War, J. P. Morgan, international financier, today thrust at the senate munitions committee an assertion that if the leisure class is destroyed, civilization will perish. His statement, read at a hearing through the committee room, climaxed the first day of the reopening of the investigation, during which committee members studiously skirted any direct mention of "secret treaties" but turned up evidence that the Wilson administration knew that allied war aims were far different from this country's. To reporters bombarding Morgan later with requests for a clarification, he finally defined the leisure class as including all who "can afford to hire a maid." Newsman, crowded close about him, understood him to estimate that there were "perhaps 30,000,000 families" in this class. If there is to be any increased yield, he contended, it must come from increasing the basis of assessment to include individuals in the lower income brackets. "It is a good legislation for twenty or thirty people," Morgan added. "What you want to do is legislate for twenty or thirty millions."

Woman Dies From Monoxide Gas

Bellefonte, Ill., Feb. 4.—(P)—Miss Catherine Heinemann, 63 years old, died today from what Coroner Walter W. Boyne believed was gas generated from a poisonous substance in her home yesterday. Seven other persons, including Miss Heinemann's sister, Mrs. Robert Hayes, and Charles Rockwell, a boarder in their home, were made ill. Rockwell was in serious condition today. A nurse, Miss June Theria, who was called to attend the women and Rockwell, collapsed but was quickly revived. Two other women, a man and a 14-year-old girl, who were in the house only a short while, became slightly ill. An official investigation was ordered by the coroner who said there was no evidence either illuminating or carbon monoxide gas was responsible.

Charges Filed Against Mother And Physicians

Formal Charge Is Sworn To
By Police Inspector In
Ann Hewitt Case

San Francisco, Feb. 4.—(P)—Ann Cooper's Hewitt's mother and two physicians were charged with mayhem today in a police complaint based on the 21-year-old heiress' claim she was tricked into a sterilization operation. The formal charge, sworn to by Police Inspector George Engler, climaxed efforts of authorities to bring criminal action despite Miss Hewitt's refusal to sign a complaint. Municipal Judge Sylvan J. Larazus, who previously had conducted a hearing to determine whether criminal charges should be brought, issued warrants of arrest on the strength of the Engler complaints plus signed and sworn statements made by Miss Hewitt and others. The punishment for mayhem is one to ten years in prison. The complaint named the mother, Mrs. Maryon Cooper Hewitt, and Drs. Tilton E. Tillman and Samuel G. Boyd—all accused by Miss Hewitt in a $500,000 damage suit of plotting her sterilization. Judge Lazarus said the question of "invasion of personal rights" was alone involved and that he was not considering the possible motive.

GRAND JURY INDICTS LOCOMOTIVE THIEF

Mattoon, Ill., Feb. 4.—(P)—Maurice Smith, who stole a locomotive for a Christmas Eve joyride that ended in a head-on crash with a freight engine, was named in a true bill returned today by the Coles county grand jury charging "malicious mischief to railroad property." The grand jury returned 22 indictments. Arraignment of defendant was set for Thursday morning before Judge Casper Platt of Danville.

WITHOUT WATER

East St. Louis, Ill., Feb. 4.—(P)—Four hundred homes were without water here today because of frozen pipes and mains. Officials of the water company said the ground had been frozen to a depth of almost four feet and nothing could be done except wait for warmer weather. Some persons have been starting fires in their basements in attempts to thaw out the pipes. As a result, there have been several fires.

SENATOR BORAH TO MAKE RACE FOR PRESIDENT

Will Campaign In Ohio
For Eight Delegates

By Edward J. Duffy
Associated Press Staff Writer
Washington, Feb. 4.—(P)—Senator Borah of Idaho formally flung down the gauntlet to the Republican organization late today by announcing he would campaign in Ohio for delegates pledged to his presidential nomination. "After a thorough survey," he said in a statement after conferring for hours with Ohio independent leaders, "I am convinced the people of the state should be given an opportunity to express their choice in the primary of May 12."

Under the so-called "favorite-son" plan, this privilege is denied them. "To obtain an expression of popular will is my intention to place at least eight candidates for delegates-at-large in the field." "I shall make a number of speeches in Ohio and present the issues as I see them." Later Borah said he would "enter delegates in the districts" as well as a state running "at large."

FRANCE, ENGLAND TO GIVE LEAGUE 'BIGGER STICK'

Will Campaign In Ohio
For Eight Delegates

Paris, Feb. 4.—(P)—France and Great Britain hope to give league members a "bigger stick" lest Adolf Hitler prove in Europe as Benito Mussolini is trying to do in Africa, semi-official sources said tonight. Many of the diplomats consulted in recent Paris and London talks, it was stated, favor reinforcing Article XVI of the League of Nations Covenant dealing with aggressor nations and sanctions. France and Britain were reported anxious for the league to authorize "preventive mobilization" to put teeth in the league's efforts at war prevention. Thus, it was explained, a member might mobilize to meet a threat without the act of being construed as provocative. France, for instance, could concentrate troops on the border if she foresaw a German attack. A new definition of an aggressor is sought because of the Italo-Ethiopian situation. Although the league indicated Italy as an aggressor, Premier Mussolini argues that he is in reality defending the frontiers of Italian colonies by a punitive expedition against border raiders. Continuing his numerous talks with various visiting diplomats, Foreign Minister Pierre-Etienne Flandin conferred today with Vice-Chancellor Ernst von Starheimberg of Austria and Prince Paul, regent of Yugoslavia. Flandin, informed sources said, is seeking to build up a united front in eastern and southeastern Europe against Germany, particularly to prevent Berlin from extending its influences into Austria.

His disinclination to seek a pledged delegation in Massachusetts had become known shortly before, raising questions whether his field was being narrowed rather than expanded. Explaining himself there, he wrote to Robert M. Washburn—president of the T. R. Roosevelt club of Boston—"I had not thought at any time that it would be a practical thing to do." Although he has indicated he would seek no delegates in Pennsylvania, it developed that this may not be final. He may do so in New York, but his friends believe that, in the main, his campaign will center in the west and mid-west. Its exact extent still remains a mystery.

ARCTIC MASS IS SWEEPING TOWARD EAST

Temperatures Drop To
As Low As Thirty-
Eight Below

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(P)—A new polar wave swept down winter's toboggan slide today, threatening to engulf all the nation east of the Rockies. Temperatures dropped to as low as 38 below zero as a 40 mile wind whipped the arctic mass toward the east. Trains were imprisoned in gigantic drifts, schools were closed and communities were isolated by heavy snows in many parts of the midwest. Traffic was hampered and in some places halted by a glare of ice and sleet storms in the east. Floods fed by torrential rains that measured more than seven inches brought traffic to a standstill, claimed at least four lives and caused evacuation of homes in hard hit portions of the south. Intense cold prevailed in the west from Montana south to the gulf and stretched steadily eastward, promising snow and subzero weather as far as Ohio tonight.

The worst blizzard of the winter blasted across southwestern Minnesota—already burdened by a foot of snow. Highways and railways were blocked. Snow plow crews were called in. Several trains were abandoned on branch lines. Dozens of communities in the storm belt were isolated in temperatures ranging down to 20 below and expected to drop still further. Schools were closed. Many important highways were drifted shut in Iowa, Nebraska, the Dakotas and Michigan. Rural schools in these states and in Indiana, where roads were sheathed with ice, were closed. A blizzard brought suspension of classes in Kalamazoo, Mich. Snow plows attacked six to ten inches of snow in northern Illinois. A dozen deaths were counted in winter's latest onslaught. Sleet and rain transformed many eastern states into huge skating rinks although temperatures were comparatively mild. The ground froze to a depth of four and five feet in East St. Louis, Ill., and Cedar Rapids, Ia. Four hundred homes were without at the former town while Cedar Rapids was threatened with a water famine. The central states bore the brunt of winter's big push. These minimums were recorded: -38 at Bemidji, Minn., -30 at Grand Forks, N. D., -29 at Brookings, S. D., -28 at Norfolk, Neb., -18 at Lander, Wyo., -20 at Havre, Mont., -10 at Belleville, Kans., -7 at Denver and -3 at Davenport, Iowa. Readings of zero to 10 below were forecast for Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Kansas and Michigan tomorrow.

Dies Mysteriously 24 Hours After His Classmate Perished

Officials Are Investigating Deaths Of Students On Railroad Track

Thetford, Vt., Feb. 4.—(P)—A 21-year-old son of a Brooklyn, N. Y., merchant died mysteriously here today, just 24 hours after a prep classmate perished in an unexplained manner. He was Jerome Nathan Straus, Dartmouth college freshman whose body was found on railroad tracks early today, eight miles from the college. His death followed closely upon that of his one-time classmate at Deerfield Academy, Francis Grose, Amherst (Mass.) college freshman whose body was discovered yesterday beneath a railroad trestle near Northampton, Mass. Grose's death remained a mystery tonight despite the fact that medical examiner T. E. Cowden called it probably accidental. L. K. Neidinger, Dean of Dartmouth, advanced three possible theories to account for the death of Straus. He said the youth, nephew of Nathan Straus of New York City, was struck by a train about 8 o'clock this morning. He asserted the student might have been trying to ride a freight train, had been walking the tracks and was accidentally struck, or had committed suicide. The Dean said he had no basis for the suicide theory except that Straus had complained recently of being unable to sleep and was in an unsettled state of mind.

His statement, read at a hearing through the committee room, climaxed the first day of the reopening of the investigation, during which committee members studiously skirted any direct mention of "secret treaties" but turned up evidence that the Wilson administration knew that allied war aims were far different from this country's. To reporters bombarding Morgan later with requests for a clarification, he finally defined the leisure class as including all who "can afford to hire a maid." Newsman, crowded close about him, understood him to estimate that there were "perhaps 30,000,000 families" in this class. If there is to be any increased yield, he contended, it must come from increasing the basis of assessment to include individuals in the lower income brackets. "It is a good legislation for twenty or thirty people," Morgan added. "What you want to do is legislate for twenty or thirty millions."

Woman Dies From Monoxide Gas

Bellefonte, Ill., Feb. 4.—(P)—Miss Catherine Heinemann, 63 years old, died today from what Coroner Walter W. Boyne believed was gas generated from a poisonous substance in her home yesterday. Seven other persons, including Miss Heinemann's sister, Mrs. Robert Hayes, and Charles Rockwell, a boarder in their home, were made ill. Rockwell was in serious condition today. A nurse, Miss June Theria, who was called to attend the women and Rockwell, collapsed but was quickly revived. Two other women, a man and a 14-year-old girl, who were in the house only a short while, became slightly ill. An official investigation was ordered by the coroner who said there was no evidence either illuminating or carbon monoxide gas was responsible.

Charges Filed Against Mother And Physicians

Formal Charge Is Sworn To
By Police Inspector In
Ann Hewitt Case

San Francisco, Feb. 4.—(P)—Ann Cooper's Hewitt's mother and two physicians were charged with mayhem today in a police complaint based on the 21-year-old heiress' claim she was tricked into a sterilization operation. The formal charge, sworn to by Police Inspector George Engler, climaxed efforts of authorities to bring criminal action despite Miss Hewitt's refusal to sign a complaint. Municipal Judge Sylvan J. Larazus, who previously had conducted a hearing to determine whether criminal charges should be brought, issued warrants of arrest on the strength of the Engler complaints plus signed and sworn statements made by Miss Hewitt and others. The punishment for mayhem is one to ten years in prison. The complaint named the mother, Mrs. Maryon Cooper Hewitt, and Drs. Tilton E. Tillman and Samuel G. Boyd—all accused by Miss Hewitt in a $500,000 damage suit of plotting her sterilization. Judge Lazarus said the question of "invasion of personal rights" was alone involved and that he was not considering the possible motive.

Illinois Must Fight

Governor Horner's veto of the old age pension law is a challenge to the legislature to fight to the finish against usurpation of power by the federal government. The veto came because the Governor was not satisfied with the "home rule" provisions of the law, giving county judges the right to appoint county pension boards. He contended that the government would not pay its share of the pension money unless the control of appointments were concentrated at Springfield.

The "home rule" clause was inserted in the bill by the Senate and agreed to in conference between the two houses. The administration fought the idea, and rather than give up the patronage the provision prevented it from having, the Governor has blocked passage of the law. It is supposed he had the backing of Washington in his stand, as the national administration is also fighting for concentration of power.

The law, which is at best only a means of caring for aged paupers, and not a pension statute, is hardly worth the concession the administration demands. The state needs an old age pension law, but the one vetoed by the Governor is so filled with red-tape that it would be of little benefit. If it is to serve as a vehicle of state and national patronage, it would be still worse.

In other words, let the legislature remain firm in its stand. The "home rule" clause stays in the bill or it stays off the statute books altogether. It is about the time the law-makers of both state and nation asserted their right to make laws without dictation of the executive branch of the government.

A Unique Position

Those who heard Congressman Dewey Short of Missouri in this city Monday evening were conscious of his powerful personality. He occupies a unique position in Congress, which may be explained in an anecdote that comes from Washington. Fast-talking Congressman Short recently held in his office the annual meeting of the "Missouri Republican Delegation." He was elected chairman, secretary and treasurer. When the meeting adjourned, he said it was "one of the most exclusive affairs in Washington."

Congressman Short is the only Republican representative from Missouri, which explains the "exclusiveness" of the gathering of his "delegation." Because of his forceful personality and his zeal for fundamental American ideals, he holds a high place in his party's congressional organization. Those who heard him here realized fully that he is not for the New Deal and the many socialistic ventures on which its advocates in Washington have forced this government to embark.

A Plea For Beavers

Apparently the beaver is worth more than his fur to cattle ranchers of the Great Plains. They have come out as champions of the beaver since the devastating drought dried up most of the water holes and caused wholesale assassination of their cattle.

The beaver, they say, builds dams and thus causes accumulation of water. In a dry and thirsty land, these beaver ponds prove of immense value in saving herds of cattle. To be sure, the beaver may cut down a tree now and then to get material for his dam. But when water is scarce, a dam is certainly worth a tree.

Many a cattle man considers his herd worth a dam or two, and if the beavers will build the dams, why ask the government to do it. The cattle men are doubtless putting up no trapping signs on their ranches, so as to protect their beavers and keep them from becoming fur coats.

'Horse and Buggy' Justice

Many criticisms have been leveled from time to time at the obsolescence of our criminal law, but the best we have seen comes from a member of the legal profession. Here is the indictment of Thomas E. Dewey, special prosecutor of racketeers in New York City:

"I have heard with surprising frequency from bench, bar, legislators, Bethel and even prosecutors, an expressed devotion to outworn theories and technical obstructions of the criminal law.

"They all still blindly worship at shrines long since devoid of meaning or usefulness. The unsatisfactory condition of the criminal law is a logical result of this philosophy.

"So, also, in the larger cities, are the incredible frequency of suspended and inadequate sentences for convicted criminals, and the acceptance of pleas to misdemeanors from habitual felons charged with serious crimes."

It is encouraging to see a leader in the profession turning the spotlight on the legal debris that has clogged for so long the channels of justice.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

Guffey Coal Act Seems to Be Doomed Before It Gets a Chance . . . Old Supreme Court Room Remains Open for Sightseers . . . Pope Gets Back at Nye . . . Representative Brewster on Other Side of the Fence.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
(Washington Journal-Courier Correspondent)

Washington—Unlike AAA and NRA, the Guffey Coal Act probably will be killed by the U. S. Supreme Court before the country has a chance to learn how it would work.

The court has paralyzed enforcement of the act in advance. As the tribunal now is constituted, practically everyone is convinced, it won't stand for much of that ambitious plan for rehabilitation and stabilization of the coal industry.

Encouraged by fate of other New Deal legislation, coal operators—among them Andrew Mellon and his interests—have obtained injunctions in federal district courts relieving them from penalties provided for failure to go in under the coal code provided by the act.

Minimum price-fixing, based on costs, is the backbone of the whole scheme. And the National Bituminous Coal Commission hasn't been able to fix prices, knowing that the act would break down at once when the operators protected by injunctions cut their prices below those fixed.

No one saw any point in going before the court with such a mess on public view.

That's why it's so likely the Guffey act will never have a tryout.

Some lawyers think only parts of the act will be tossed out by the court. Others say that if the majority line of reasoning in railroad cases is followed, the act will survive intact.

They doubt, however, that the present majority will follow precedent.

Old Courtroom Is Shrine
The old supreme court room in the Capitol is being kept open and unchanged as a shrine for visitors to look at.

Prior to 1859, when the court took it over, it was used as the Senate chamber. Some of the greatest debates of the Webster-Clay-Calhoun period echoed through its narrow confines and it's this early history, rather than the court's occupancy, which is given as the reason for its preservation as something extra-special.

Pope Gets Back at Nye
A half-forgotten incident of recent senatorial history has been recalled here in trying to explain why Senator James P. Pope of Idaho tried to break up the munitions investigation committee. It was Senator Pope, who, with Senator George of Georgia, walked out on the committee and threatened to resign as a protest against conduct of the inquiry.

You may remember that Senator Pope went abroad last year and sounded off so sensationally as to European politics and European-American relations that Senator La Follette of Wisconsin introduced a resolution of censure. The resolution was buried, but among those who voted for consideration of it was Chairman Nye of the munitions committee.

Nye's vote is said to have rankled with Pope, all the more because he had bowed to Nye on the matter of the committee chairmanship to which Pope was technically entitled. When Nye voiced his famous charge that Woodrow Wilson had "falsified," Pope was one of the many eager to leap upon the North Dakotan.

Brewster Does a Shift
Congressman Ralph Brewster of Maine, once regarded here as a progressive member from New England, apparently has decided the game isn't worth the candle. Last year, after taking an active position for the holding company bill, Brewster swung around and voted against it. Then he made charges that Tom Corcoran, co-author of the measure, had threatened him with public works reprisals.

The other night Brewster was beaming at the Liberty League dinner, and chumming with conservative Representative Jimmy Wadsworth of New York. Later he was a guest at an exclusive post-banquet party at the home of Joubert Shouse.

Jacksonville Boys Knock Out Rivals In Ring at Macomb

Tuffy Prewitt, Spainhower Get Rid of Opponents in Short Order

John "Tuffy" Prewitt and Floyd Spainhower, Jacksonville amateur boxers, turned out the lights for two opponents in their bouts at Macomb, Ill., Monday night. The Jacksonville youngsters were featured on the card, as they have appeared in Macomb several times with success.

Prewitt, weighing 137 pounds, fought one of the best battles of his career to knock out Herman Hicks, 1936 Golden Glove lightweight champion of the Galesburg tournament. Hicks won his crown only last week, but Prewitt waded into him with a savage attack that left the Galesburg battler helpless.

Prewitt himself took a lot of punishment in the first three rounds, and hit the canvas once. In the fourth and fifth rounds the Jacksonville boy had Hicks off his feet three times and the third time he was counted out.

Spainhower knocked out Alex Shildrahl in the third round of their scheduled five rounder. The local middleweight is in fine trim, having a string of victories this winter.

The local boxers were accompanied to Macomb by Guy Woods, their trainer.

Assembly Program On Art of Dancing

Junior High Students See Demonstrations of Tap, Ballet, Folk Dances

The art of dancing was explained and demonstrated to David Prince students during an interesting assembly program yesterday morning, sponsored by Miss Esther Robinson. Folk dancing was demonstrated by a group of MacMurray College seniors who study under Miss Mahaney. Miss Myra White told the students something of early American folk dances, and Miss Catherine Wiswell told things to do and not to do while dancing.

Those who demonstrated the dances were the Misses Eloise Chumley, Mary Frye, Marjorie Giesher, Gladys Cully, Jessie Phillips, Elizabeth King, Martha June Morgan, and Alice Anderson. Miss Elizabeth Capps and a group of girls next demonstrated and explained the ballet dance. Those assisting Miss Capps were Roberta Canatsey, Barbara Ann Jannopoulo, and Shirley Ann Green.

The final number on the program was a tap dance explained by Miss Louise Boring.

EXCLUSIVE STORY
As timely as the black headlines from which it is fashioned is the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, "EXCLUSIVE STORY," featuring Franchot Tone and Madge Evans which opens today at the FOX ILLINOIS.
Written by ace reporter Martin Mooney, it is a dramatization of his crusade against the racketeers overlords of New York, dealing in particular with the notorious "policy game," which is said to rob citizens of millions each year.
Gaining fame from his dramatic expose, Newspaperman Mooney was recently given a jail sentence for failing to divulge the sources of his astonishing information. It is this material which provides the spine of the new screen play.
Briefly, the exciting theme of "Exclusive Story" is told in the lives of a group of people who are in one way or another affected by the machinations of the gang bosses.

RENDEZVOUS
Deep-dyed secrets of the famous "Black Chamber" of World War fame are unfolded under the analytical genius of William Powell in his new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, "RENDEZVOUS," opening Thursday at the FOX ILLINOIS.
"Black Chamber" presents Powell in the most unusual characterization of his career. Where before he has confined his knowledge in criminology to physical detective work, in his newest role Powell graduates from a newspaper puzzle editor to the outstanding trapper of international spies.
Through the web of counter-espionage is interwoven a three-cornered romance involving Powell, Geraldine Russell and Binnie Barnes.

POPOVERS ARE GOOD SUBSTITUTES FOR PATTY SHELLS AND PUFFS

By MARY E. DAGUE

The other day at a luncheon the hostess served popovers filled with creamed lobster and every woman there begged for the recipe. Probably because it was a relief to get away from the stereotyped patty shell.

Popovers make good substitutes for cream puff shells, too. You fill them with fruit mixed with whipped cream.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Oranges, cereal, cream, rice waffles with syrup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Popovers filled with creamed dried beef, tomato salad, apple ginger pudding, milk, tea.

DINNER: Rabbit and bacon pie, creamed Jerusalem artichokes, escarole and cucumber salad, date pudding, milk, coffee.

or with the usual English cream, filling and serve with coffee.

Very crisp popovers also make attractive salad cases, and are ideal to use on a one-plate luncheon.

But eaten plain, piping hot, with plenty of butter, is their real mission in life.

The popovers will be taller and crispier if you bake them in ungreased cups so that the batter can cling to the sides during the baking (the same theory as the ungreased pan for angel food cake).

Here's a recipe for popovers that are sure to pop.

Popovers

One cup milk, 2 eggs, 1 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon melted butter.

Sift flour into mixing bowl. Add eggs and milk and salt and beat with a Dover beater for five minutes. Add melted butter and beat about a minute longer. Put 2 tablespoons batter in each custard cup and bake forty minutes in a hot oven (400 degrees F.).

Perhaps the luncheon menu my hostess served will appeal to your guests, too, so here it is.

Creamed lobster in popovers, fresh vegetable salad in lettuce cups, tiny whole wheat rolls, olives and pickles, paradise cream, coffee.

Popovers are one of the most versatile types of pastries and simple to make. They can be used to accompany the salad course, in place of pastry shells and as the foundation of luscious desserts.

Paradise Cream

One tablespoon granulated gelatin, 1 cup cold milk, 1 cup powdered sugar, 1 cup blanched almonds, 1 cup candied cherries, 1 dozen marshmallows, 1 pint whipping cream, few grains salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Heat 1 cup milk and add marshmallows. Let stand while mixing pudding. Soften gelatin in remaining cold milk. Stir over hot water until dissolved. Add to marshmallows with sugar, nuts coarsely chopped, cherries cut in quarters, salt, vanilla and cream whipped until firm. Turn into a mold and let stand in refrigerator for twenty-four hours. Unmold and serve with a garnish of whipped cream and whole cherries.

Creamed Lobster

Two cups lobster meat, 3 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, 1 cup cream, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons sherry, yolks 2 eggs.

Melt butter without discoloring and stir in flour. Cook and stir until bubbly and gradually add milk and cream, salt and pepper. Cook and stir until boiling. Beat egg yolks with sherry and add with lobster meat to sauce. Cook until thick and hot, stirring all the time, but do not let boil again. Serve in popovers shells with a sprig of parsley topping each.

Wedges of tomato, cubes of cucumber, thin slices of radishes, wide slices of celery and an occasional paper-thin slice of new onion complete to make a refreshing salad for a January luncheon. Serve with a well seasoned French dressing.

White Hall Couple Given Surprise on 47th Anniversary

Relatives and Friends of Mr. and Mrs. H. Smith Gather at Supper

White Hall—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith celebrated their forty-seventh wedding anniversary Monday evening rather unexpectedly. They had spent the day in a quiet way and at supper time several of their relatives arrived with baskets filled with good things to eat. After the supper others gathered to also do them honor.

Those present at the supper were Mrs. Jane Rigg, Mrs. Alice Taylor, Rev. and Mrs. Charles Hudson and son, Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Bowen, all of White Hall, and Rev. Homer Evans of Winchester.

Those who came later were Mrs. Ira Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. William Owens, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rigg and daughter, Ruby, Richard Rigg, Mrs. Ira Walker, Ruth Depolster, Mrs. William McCarthy and four children, Lucy Crow, of White Hall and Dorothy Faulkner of Greenfield.

Henry Smith, son of George and Elizabeth Guthrie Smith, was born near Berdan, August 14, 1890.

Ellen Walker, daughter of William and Mary Elizabeth Guthrie Walker was born on Bradshaw Mound east of White Hall, August 12, 1899. They were united in marriage on February 3, 1880, at the home of the bride's parents on Ayers street in White Hall, by Rev. B. B. Hamilton, pastor of the First Baptist Church in White Hall. There were seventeen guests at the wedding and seven of those are still living. They are Mrs. Jane Rigg, Mrs. Alice Taylor, of White Hall, Mrs. Mary Hancock of Alton, Mrs. Bern Waltrip of Wrights, William Walker of Wrights, sisters and brother of Mrs. Smith, and Mrs. Ida Taylor of Tulsa, Oklahoma and C. Loving of Joy, Ill.

They were the parents of three children, Mrs. Charles Hudson, Mrs. Virgil Bowen and Miss Emily Smith of White Hall.

Mr. Smith has two brothers, Louis and John Smith of Laurel, Nebraska, and three half brothers, Marcus Punkhouser of Champaign, Thomas Punkhouser of Mishawaka, Indiana, and Charles Punkhouser of Logansport, Indiana.

Mrs. Smith's sisters and brother have already been mentioned as guests at the wedding forty-seven years ago. A remarkable item about Mrs. Smith's sisters and brother, is that of six sisters all lived to be past fifty years of age. One sister, Mrs. Jessie Lorraine died last September. It will also be noted that Mr. and Mrs. Smith's mothers' maiden names were the same. They are second cousins.

Attend Pessel Funeral

Dr. W. H. Garrison and son, Harold Garrison, Miss Nellie French of White Hall and Dr. Kenneth Ricks of East Alton drove to Belleville Sunday on account of the death of Rev. Otto Pessel, who died in a St. Louis hospital Friday night and whose funeral was held Monday. Dr. Garrison's son, Dr. Geo. Garrison of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, married the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Pessel.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coates, Monday evening at the White Hall hospital, a daughter, who weighed six pounds and six ounces. She is the third child and first daughter. Mrs. M. E. Fuller of Northcut, Louisiana, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Jane Rigg on Israel street, started on her return home Friday. She made the trip via auto, part of the way alone.

Word to relatives here Monday from Mrs. Harold Wayman of Jerseyville, stated that her mother, Mrs. Susan Platt who has been a helpless invalid for several years, was not so well. Mrs. Platt had three vertebral broken in her back in an auto accident several years ago and has been paralyzed since, being able to only use her hands.

I.C. Grad Directs H.S. Like Captain Steers His Craft

Principal Ralph Robb of Clinton Has Complete Speaking System

Principal Ralph Robb can say he has better control of Clinton High school than most captains have of their ships. Robb, a graduate of Illinois College here in the class of 1911, sits at the control desk of one of the most modern public address systems in the United States, and one of the few of its kind in use by educational institutions.

From his office the principal commands every class room, corridor, locker room and the auditorium, together or separately. Friends of Mr. Robb, and those interested in modern school equipment, will find the following description of interest:

"The 40 horns or amplifiers," Mr. Robb explained in a recent interview, "are located anywhere that students collect within the building. It has the newest features of any similar system installed in the United States, for the output, power, tone equality and the speak-back.

This speak-back principle, according to Mr. Robb, is worth half of the entire system in that it permits replies from the rooms and other amplifier locations. Or if he wishes, Mr. Robb may turn the switch button and listen.

Conversations in any part of the class room are easily understood from the master speaker in the office.

The instrument also contains an 11 tube radio set where educational programs, presidential addresses, sessions of congress, etc., may be turned in and broadcast over the system to the class rooms. If the occasion requires it, two different programs may be tuned in at the same time, part of the classes getting one speech or lecture, and another class or classes getting something else. The combinations are numerous.

An electrically operated turntable built within the large floor cabinet permits the broadcast of prepared records. The system also provides power for amplification. Three "mikes" mounted on floor standards are placed across the stage where they pick up every sound and reproduce it with fidelity.

"We became acquainted with the use of the public address system six years ago," said Mr. Robb, "when the classes presented the school with an instrument. At that time it represented the best in its line, but was in no way comparable to the speaker we have now. It did not have the speak-back, the tone, perfection nor the power.

Headache

"Inside Facts" that may help you...

The first step toward relieving simple headache is to understand its cause. Pain is the cry of over-taxed nerves for rest. And when we realize that the nerves spread throughout every part of the body (see head diagram) we understand how serious a nervous disturbance can be.

In selecting a remedy for headache, periodic pains, and other nerve pain use one that soothes the entire nervous system. Capudine is ideally suited for simple headache, neuralgic pain, rheumatism, or periodic pain because it restores high nerve tension and brings welcome relaxation. Also remember that Capudine is a quick-acting remedy because its ingredients are already dissolved. No narcotics or opiates.

Winchester Hands Jacksonville High Second Defeat Of Year 30-22

J. Louis Comiskey Owner Of White Sox Says Money Is Root Of Baseball Woes

By Charles Dunkley
Associated Press Sports Writer
Chicago, Feb. 4.—(AP)—J. Louis Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox, can tell you that money is the root of baseball's ills.

Ever since Comiskey sold Al Simmons to the world's championship Tigers for $75,000, he has had his troubles. Every club owner in the American League—and the minors—has that $75,000 or part of it.

Several of his ball players, knowing Lou has an extra $75,000, also would like some of it in salary increases. As preparations got underway today for the departure to the spring training camp at Pasadena, Calif., Feb. 20, seven members of the Sox had failed to return the signed contracts for 1936.

Those asking for an extra couple of thousand, probably hoping of getting an extra couple of hundred, are:

Luke Appling, outstanding shortstop, coveted by other American League clubs.

Luke Sewell, 35-year-old catcher, who, because of his good catching and 285 hitting in his first year with the Sox last season, wants $15,000, a $5,000 raise.

Zeke Bonura, who thinks 285 hitting last year and his first basing is worth $15,000, a $5,000 boost.

Vernon Kennedy, the little no-hit pitcher of last season.

Maie Haas, veteran outfielder.

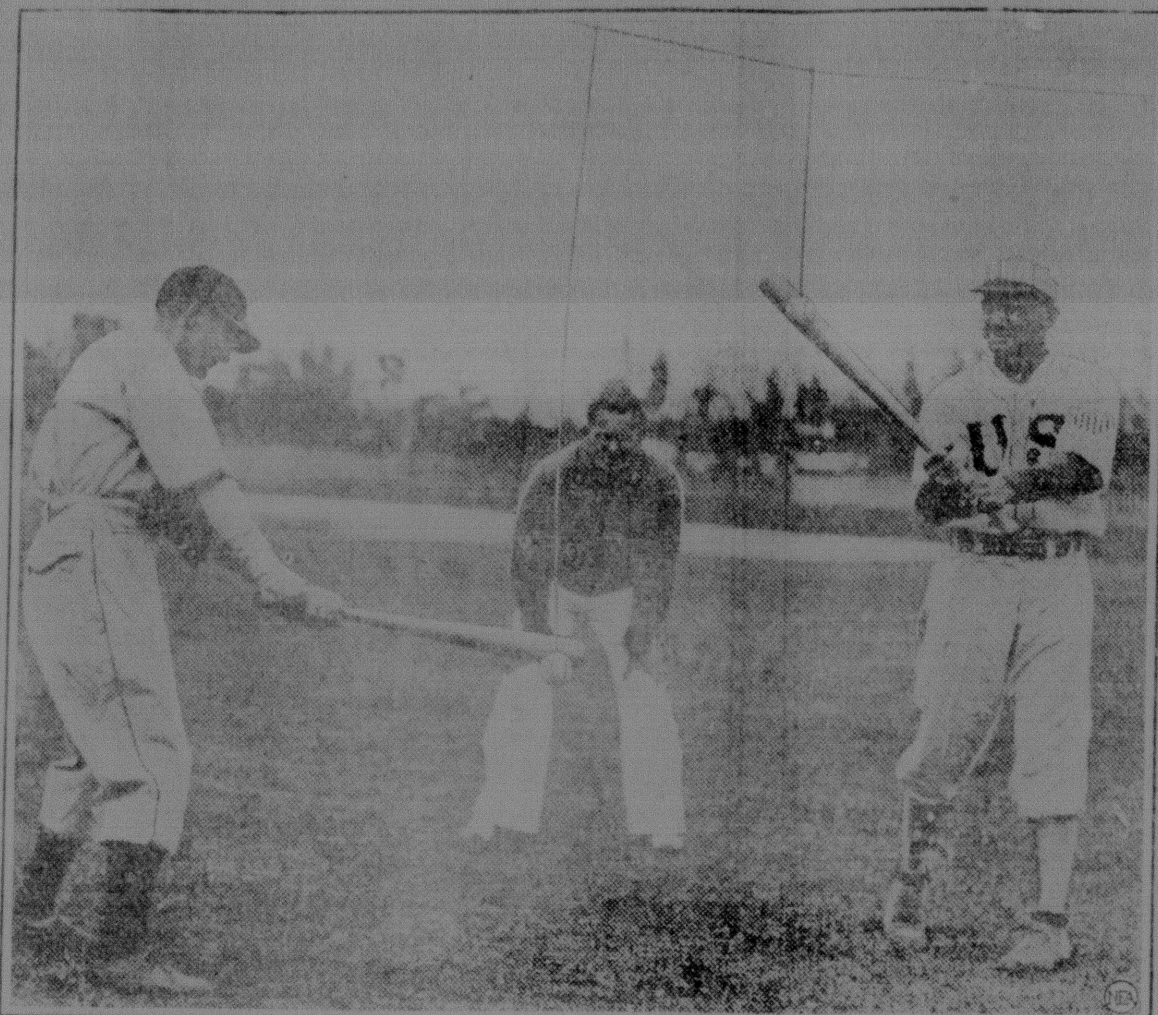

Jack Hayes, utility infielder; Frank Grube, substitute catcher.

Manager Jimmy Dykes will take 31 players to spring training, but as far as Dykes is concerned the fate of the White Sox rests in the hands of only four of them. And those four are rookies. Provided all the veterans come through, Dykes is depending most on four newcomers—Monte Stratton and Red Evans, pitchers, and George Stumpf and Mike Kreevich to fill the gap in center field caused by the sale of Simmons to the world's champion Tigers.

The two selected to battle it out for Simmons' spot were teammates on the Kansas City club last year. Stumpf, playing center, hit .322 and Kreevich, playing a side field, batted .345. Of the two pitchers, Stratton looks impressive with a record of 17 won and nine lost with St. Paul last year. Evans won 24 and lost eight for Oklahoma City, the club which gave "No-hit" Kennedy to the Sox last spring.

Starting March 3, the White Sox will launch a 27-game exhibition schedule. After playing Seattle at Santa Monica, the Sox will meet the Cubs in a three-game series at Los Angeles. Later they will team up with the Pirates for 13 games in a row in Texas and Louisiana, winding up for a pre-view with the Cubs, National League champions, in Chicago April 10, 11 and 12.

SPRING CAN'T BE FAR AWAY

When you see a picture such as this you know that spring and baseball are nigh. Paul Waner, left, Pittsburgh holdout, and Max Carey, the old-time base-stealer, demonstrate with the aid of a trick contraption how to hit low and high balls. Freddie Lindstrom, the new Brooklyn Dodger, another member of the Miami baseball school's faculty, is shown in the background.

Indees Turn Back CCC Five In Debut, While Merchants Beat Lynnville

Smiths Indies set back the CCC quintet in its debut 24 to 19, after holding them scoreless for one half, and the Jacksonville Merchants dropped the Lynnville A. C. 27 to 19 in two games played in the Y.M.C.A. basketball league last night at the David Prince gymnasium.

Unable to hit the basket, although successful in working the ball in for shots, the CCC failed to register a single point through the first half. They began hitting in third quarter, and were just finding their stride when the game wound up.

Hudson scored 16 points for the Indees to lead the attack.

The Merchants had a battle all the way with Lynnville, leading only 20-17 going into the final period. They pulled away steadily in the final quarter, however.

Slow Break and Hot Shooting As Enacted by Wildcats Drop J.H.S.; Cats Lead Whole Game

Winchester, Feb. 4.—A slow break plus a hot scoring attack in the first quarter that swept Jacksonville high off its feet, gave Winchester high's upsetting Wildcats a 30 to 22 victory here tonight, the second defeat the Crimsons have suffered in 19 starts this year. Winchester's reserves won the opening game from the Jacksonville reserves 28 to 26 in three overtimes.

Played before a gathering that contributed only $2.00 to the gate receipts, Winchester gave one of its best exhibitions of basketball of the season in crushing the powerful Jacksonville offense with delay, throwing it completely out of gear, and then checking a rally in the final quarter to clinch the game.

Adopting the same tactics that almost upset White Hall less than two weeks ago, the Wildcats grabbed the ball at the start, held it until they had an opening under the hoop, and then fired the ball through the mesh to run up a 12 to 4 score in the first eight minutes of play.

Then the Crimsons got wise to the tactics, but were unable to do much about it. Each team scored four points in the second quarter, the teams quitting the court for the intermission with Winchester in front 16 to 8.

Cutting into the lead slightly, but Johns, fast forward, made a dent. The Crimsons still trailed at the end of the third quarter 20 to 14. Opening a fourth quarter spurt, the Crimsons pulled up to within three points, 22-19, before Winchester put on a scoring spurt that clinched the game.

Winchester took advantage of one of the faults of the Crimsons zone defense to control the ball in the front court without much opposition. They carefully handled the leather, working it around near the center of the court until McLaughlin, or some of his team-mates, got loose near the free throw line from where the Cats scored most of their points. McLaughlin tossed in 12 points and Virgil Coughlin pitched in seven to lead the Wildcats scoring.

Hamm, Lukeman, and Keiner, the high scoring Crimsons, were held to a total of eight points, while George Mofon, big Crimson guard, led the scoring with nine points.

The Winchester reserves won the opening game when Imboden tossed in a field goal during the third overtime period.

Ashland, Feb. 4.—A seven point lead, tied up in the first period gave Ashland the margin it needed to beat Petersburg here tonight 25 to 20.

Purdue, Indiana Win Big Ten Cage Games

Boilermakers Run Up 43-27 Score on Ohio State; Hoosiers Win

Chicago.—(AP)—Purdue's spendthrift Boilermakers and Indiana's frugal Hoosiers, exemplifying two widely different varieties of basketball, the state's favorite pastime, were still bowling along toward a tie for the Big Ten championship today.

Each of the neighborhood rivals, who do not meet this season, added a victory to undefeated Conference records last night. Each accomplished its triumph in characteristic fashion.

The Hoosiers, who have made made a practice of not wasting any more scoring power than necessary on any Big Ten foe, squeezed out a 26 to 23 victory over Minnesota's immensely improved five at Bloomington, Purdue following its lavish point making policy, overwhelmed Ohio State, 46 to 27, at LaFayette.

Indiana's victory was its sixth straight, with six more league contests to go. The Boilermakers, who were out of action because of mid-semester struggles with textbooks for 18 days, ran their conference string to five in a row. Iowa, also coming out of the mid-semester dull period, turned in a 35 to 22 victory over Drake in a non-conference game.

With Bob Kessler and Jewel Young doing spectacular shooting, Purdue's offense never gave Ohio State a chance to get started. The Boilermakers worked up a 25 to 13 margin at halftime, and maintained their pace to the finish.

Kessler connected seven times from the field and twice from the free throw line for 16 points and a season total of 60.

Indiana's set offense produced a 23 to 12 margin over Minnesota early in the second half, but as was the case in previous conference tests, the Hoosiers weakened and had to choke off a threatening rally.

Things out of their control, however, are reported to have set-back relations among the county schools. Always a hot bed of competition, reports have it that a few teams went away disgruntled.

Ready, of Carrollton, was the medal for free throwing. There was even some comment about that, for one coach tells us that some one in the stands shouted just as Ready's nearest competitor attempted his next to last effort, disconcerting this tower so much that he missed the toss, and also the next one.

National League Adopts Schedule

New York, Feb. 4.—(AP)—A schedule for 154 games with the season opening April 14 and closing September 27, was adopted by the National League today.

Opening games will find Boston at Philadelphia; Brooklyn at New York; Pittsburgh at Cincinnati and Chicago at St. Louis.

Each city gets 12 Saturday and 12 Sunday games. Holiday dates were assigned as follows:

Boston—Bunker Hill Day, Decoration Day and Labor Day. Brooklyn—Decoration Day, New York—July 4th, Philadelphia—July 4th and Labor Day, Chicago—Decoration Day, St. Louis—Decoration Day.

The schedule differs from those of previous years in that eastern and western clubs will make four inter-sectional trips instead of the usual three. This was made possible by shortening the usual four game series to three and two games.

PLANS TO WED

Urbana—Rexford Newcomb, Jr., 22 son of the University of Illinois dean of fine and applied arts, confirmed reports he had taken out a license to marry Miss Helen J. Meffley, 19, Chicago, a former co-ed, S. P. D. Meffley, her father, said at Chicago he believed the couple would marry in June. Newcomb is president of the student engineering council.

TO REPAIR CLOTHES

Decatur.—Mrs. H. G. Landholt, Macon county schoolboard member, announced a WPA sewing project was approved to put an expert mender in each of the county's schools to sew on buttons and repair rips in clothing of students.

Fan Breezes

By Ernest Savage

With all of the tournaments in this section over, with the exception of Alsey's four team affair this Saturday, the districts and regionals, it appears that the weatherman has taken a big fall out of the prep treasures.

Cold, sub-zero weather, along with snow caused a loss of about $359 in Ashland's tournament. Petersburg's invitational was hard hit by cold weather, and Winchester had to forfeit a little to the weatherman, although its tournament, as usual, made a bit more than expenses.

On the other hand, the Greene county tournament last week went over with a bang, at least financially, although we do hear that there is a lot of enmity over the outcome.

High praise goes to the Roadhouse faculty, headed by Supt. H. D. Barr, and Coach Mason Campbell and assistant coach William, for their efforts in staging the affair. Some reports have it that even the persons in charge were startled by the results.

McKendree college was definitely added to the Illinois College football schedule for a game in Jacksonville Nov. 21 of next year, when its basketball team played here the other night. Illinois was supposed to play at McKendree next fall, but Coach Waldorf requested that the game be played in Jacksonville instead.

Chandlerville, Feb. 4.—After battling icy roads for 35 miles Browning high took the short end of a 42 to 11 score as Chandlerville's Comets skidded over them to a one-sided victory.

The Comets led the way, but failed to register a single point from the free throw line.

PIE TRAYNOR'S ARM PRONOUNCED MENED

San Francisco, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Manager Harold "Pie" Traynor of the Pittsburgh Pirates, his throwing arm pronounced mended after considerable uncertainty, said today he expects to be at his old third-base post when the National League campaign opens.

Traynor predicted the Pirates, along with the defending Chicago Cubs, the St. Louis Cardinals and New York Giants will fight it out for the pennant.

After two weeks of treatment at Boyes Springs, near here, Traynor expressed belief his throwing arm was in excellent condition. An injury kept him out of the lineup most of last season.

Discovery Will Race Saturday

Los Angeles, Feb. 4.—(AP)—A "preview" of the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap was promised in next Saturday's card at the track in nominations announced today.

Discovery, Cavalcade and Head Play—The three top weight carriers for the Feb. 22 Handicap—are nominated, together with 11 other entrants in that seasonal classic, for Saturday's $7500 San Antonio Handicap.

This mile and one-eighth fore-runner of the mile and quarter big event, will find Alfred G. Vanderbilt's 5-year-old chestnut sensation glowing in the public mind from the display last Saturday in coming up from 15 lengths behind in the last quarter to finish five lengths ahead.

Discovery amazed everybody that day.

The famous 5-year-old Handicap King of 1934, Mrs. Isobel Dodge Sloan's Cavalcade, is ready to answer the gossip that racing days are over. Cavalcade made the mile in 1:26 2/5 in its last hard trial.

Then there will be Azucar, the 8-year-old sugar horse of F. M. Alger, Jr., that won the big handicap last year and holds the record derby distance in 2:02.1.

A. A. Baroni's Top Row, rated by many as one of the strong contenders for the season's honors, will be at the starting gate Saturday, along with these other noted thoroughbreds, time Supply, Rosemont, Beefsteak, Scotch Bun, Prince Abbott, Ariel Cross, Special Agent, Pompey's Pillar and Ann O'Riley.

Franklin to Meet I.S.D. For Third Time This Year Tonight In Double Header; Seek Victory

For the third time this year, Franklin high's Flashies will attempt to clinch Illinois School for the Deaf championship, who have been victors in two previous games, when they hook up in a double header on the local boards. The first of the two tilts is called for 7:15, and the second will begin about 8:15.

The Tigers opened their season at Franklin with a startling 38 to 19 decision, and then repeated, although by a narrower margin, when these two teams met in the semi-finals of the Ashland invitational tournament. The Tigers won that game by a seven point margin, 24-17, indicating that Franklin is coming right along.

Franklin won the third place title in the Ashland tournament by defeating Converse 21 to 20, a team which I.S.D. dropped last Saturday night 29 to 20.

Despite the edge which the Tigers appear to have over Franklin, an upset would not be entirely out of the bounds of reason. Coach S. Robey Burns is coming his squad for a replacement for Wildrich, who will become ineligible at the end of the week. They also are looking ahead to their game with Routt this Friday night, and will not care to disclose any of their choicer bits of scoring maneuvering.

Burns probably will use his regulars, Rajski and Wells, forwards, Baumann, center, and Tannahill, forwards. Rawlings, center, Belk and Oxley, guards.

Franklin's line-up probably will be Bryant and Tannahill, forwards, Rawlings, center, Belk and Oxley, guards.

Jacob Ruppert To Rebuild Stands

New York, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Col. Jacob Ruppert can't buy the baseball ivory he wants with his millions so he's going to buy a mess of concrete.

He's going to get out of a lot of wood—not dead wood, among his players because he says he hasn't any and what's more the team is going to win the pennant this year—and replace it with cement.

The owner of the New York Yankees announced today that the wooden bleachers in the Yankee stadium encircling the outfield would be replaced with permanent stands, carrying out the original architectural design.

The triple-decker grand stand will be continued around right field. From that point to the left field stands a double-decker bleacher without a top will be constructed. A third tier, and a roof probably will be added later, he said. The concrete bleachers would be constructed first.

The new construction, which will increase the seating capacity from 75,000 to 85,000 will cost approximately $850,000, bringing the total cost of "The House Ruth Built" in 1923 up to $3,500,000.

Berey G. Osborn, of the Chapin community, was a caller in the city yesterday.

CLOSING OUT SALE

Wed. Feb. 12, 10 a. m., at Silver Moon Farm, 1 mi. N. of Chandlerville. Horses, Mules, Holstein cow, Implement, Machinery, seed corn, etc.

Burns Cause Death Of Autie F. Wiley, Is Jury's Verdict

Funeral Services Tuesday
For Accident Victims Who Was Injured January 12

Autie F. Wiley, who was fatally burned Jan. 12 in an accident south of the Burlington tower, died at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon at Our Saviors' hospital.

An inquest held by Coroner E. O. Sainnie yesterday morning, a jury determined that Wiley came to his death "from shock and exhaustion from deep third degree burns on the lower half of the body caused by a bonfire near the Burlington tower Jan. 12, 1936."

Claude Wiley, twin brother of the deceased, Officer O'Connell, who assisted in removing the injured man to the hospital, and Dr. T. O. Hardisty testified at the inquest. Claude Wiley told of finding his brother with his clothing on fire when he returned to the camp after going for water to a nearby well.

Dr. Hardisty testified that Wiley's lower limbs were from his ankles to his hips, were burned to a crisp, that the outer skin was hard and dry. Even the muscle was burned to the bone.

The jury of inquest consisted of James Buckley, Hewitt McQuerry, George Kilian, Ted Taylor, S. E. Richey and Leon Enslin.

Funeral services for Wiley were held at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the Gillham funeral home, in charge of Rev. F. A. Havighurst. Music was furnished by Mrs. C. R. Short and Mrs. J. A. Lettice, who sang "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Rock of Ages."

Bearers were Frank and Richard Hocking, William Murray, Ralph Cooney, Tom Trahey and Walter Stanley. Interment took place in Diamond Grove cemetery.

Decedent is survived by his father, Chester Wiley and the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Roy Weatherford, Mrs. David Pevey, and Carl C. John Richard and Claude D. Wiley, all of this community, and Kenneth Wiley of Mount Vernon.

'Flying Tank' Visioned as New War Monster

Await Orders to Vacate Lafayette On Hour's Notice

Dr. R. O. Stoops Says There Will Be No Delay When School Gets Signal

"We are ready to vacate the Lafayette school building at an hour's notice," Dr. R. O. Stoops, superintendent of the city schools said yesterday in commenting on the possibility that the vacating might have to take place in a very short time. He explained that the government will give the order to vacate as soon as all details of the construction of a new second ward school building with PWA funds are properly checked.

All contracts have been signed and submitted to the PWA for final approval. Just when the go-ahead signal will be given is not certain, but it is expected within a few days. Meanwhile the school management has everything in readiness to move children out of the old building without delay.

"Seven of the eight rooms in Lafayette," Dr. Stoops said, "will be transferred as units. A few students will go as individuals to Washington and others to Jefferson school. Three rooms of Washington school are furnished and ready for the Lafayette pupils."

"It will be necessary to transfer furniture to the rooms to be used in David Prince. But that will not take long. We are not going to vacate until the order comes from the government, but there will be no delay when that order is received. I believe there is now no question but that the work will go forward, and we will get a new building on the Lafayette site."

BIOLOGY STUDENTS REGULAR "CUT-UPS"

They Explore "Innards" of Frogs with Scalpels

The students in the biological department of Jacksonville High school did some "cutting up" yesterday afternoon for which they were not disciplined by their teachers. In fact the things they did helped them to obtain better grades.

The secret of this strange procedure is explained by a shipment of live frogs today, about three dozen in all. The students, with sharp scalpels and a thirst for knowledge whetted to a keen edge, dissected the luckless frogs and got "inside information" on their construction.

The sacrifices to science proved most beneficial, but the young people were in for a lot of hard work. After all, the structure of a frog is a rather complicated matter, and you do need a little biological knowledge to understand his internal workings.

Political Use of WPA to Be Probed

Roosevelt Approves G.O.P.
Investigation

Washington.—(P)—An effort to clothe the senate campaign expenditures committee with specific authority to investigate charges of political use of the $4,000,000,000 work relief fund was organized today by senate Republicans.

They will propose that this power be granted through an amendment to a resolution introduced by Senator Robinson, of Arkansas. Democratic leader. The Robinson resolution authorizes the customary election-year inquiry into campaign expenditures.

President Roosevelt has already given his approval to the latter proposal. Robinson said it was designed to prevent "bad practices in connection with presidential and senatorial elections."

Senator Hastings, of Delaware, ranking Republican on the elections committee which is considering the Robinson resolution, plans to offer the amendment.

WILD DUCKS LAZY, SURVEY DISCLOSES

Remain in Middle West as Cold Wave Grips Lakes

Winona, Minn.—(P)—A biological survey showing some 30,000 ducks chose to spend the coldest winter in years in the frigid middle west forced George Tonkin to the conclusion today that the birds were either eccentric or plain lazy.

Tonkin, game management chief of region four, found 600 mallards playing tag with the ice cakes on a small lake near Albert Lea, Minn. Several flocks hobbled with the freezing breakers and flocks of Lake Superior near Duluth.

Why they failed to seek the lush swamps of Louisiana, their usual winter habitat, the survey failed to disclose.

WPA Workers Are Requested To Sign Horner Petitions

Officials Claim Highway
Police Inflicted
Reprisals

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(P)—WPA officials charged in county court today that supporters of Gov. Henry Horner attempted to get the signatures of work-relief employees on the governor's nominating petitions.

The WPA representatives said that two highway policemen inflicted reprisals after editors bearing nominating petitions were barred from one project.

John W. Lowell, in charge of WPA work in Chicago parks, told Judge George N. Blatt that he had put affidavits before United States District Attorney Michael L. Igoe and declared the federal prosecutor planned to investigate.

Arthur C. Jacobs, assistant superintendent, charged that ten WPA workers were arrested for driving overloaded trucks during the same week that "various state employees" bearing nominating petitions were barred from a project which employs some 2,200 men.

The two policemen who made the arrests, Anthony Martorano and Frank Rizzo, replied that Jacobs and his superior, Superintendent William E. Borg, had "tried to scare us."

The hearing came after Martorano obtained a subpoena for Borg. He charged Borg exhibited a star and warned the policeman he "might lose his job." Borg denied it.

There was no school at the McCracken school Monday on account of the weather as the teacher could not get there.

Walter Whewell and family were Sunday afternoon visitors at the Kelly home.

Mrs. Frank Copley visited Saturday with her mother Mrs. John Kelley.

Mary Geiger has been suffering with cold for several days.

Livestock Prices 10 To 25 Higher

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(P)—Cold weather supplied the principal bullish factor in the livestock trade today and all prices were 10 to 25 cents higher.

Dwindling receipts coupled with reports of improved consumption of pork with stiffening prices for whole-sale pork cuts gave the live hog market a strong undertone and higher prices were easily maintained. The top was $10.65. Only 16,000 fresh swine were on sale. At the close a part of the early advance was lost on heavy weights.

The cattle trade had the aspects of a storm market forced by the paucity of receipts. Fed steers, yearlings and heifers closed 15 to 25 cents higher, with the bulk of steers selling at $7.75 to $10.50. The killing quality was plain, however. Best steers brought $12.50.

After a delay, buyers took over the live mutton run at 15 to 25 cents higher quotations. Choice fat lambs sold to small killers and shippers at $10.80, highest since the middle of January. The bulk of good to choice natives and fed westerns sold at $10.40 to $10.75.

Wheat Values Little Higher

By John P. Boughan
Associated Press Market Editor

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(P)—Ready absorption of offerings helped wheat values to average a little higher today. Severity of the cold wave over-spreading the entire country formed a basis for some speculative buying, although the greater part of domestic wheat territory is believed to have an adequate snow blanket. Generally unfavorable conditions for winter crops in foreign countries were reported, with complaints especially from France, where rains have been persistent.

Recovering from an early transient dip, wheat scored modest all-around gains, and closed firm, a 1/2 to 1 1/2 compared with yesterday's finish. May 60 1/2, oats exactly unchanged, and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to an equal gain.

Some fears were expressed that considerable Illinois wheat has been damaged by sudden cold after thaws. Relative strength shown by the Minneapolis market was also a subject of attention, trade authorities asserting that contrary to general belief the acreage sown to wheat northwest this spring may not be materially increased. Reasons given included lack of full plowing, together with insufficiency of good seed wheat.

An advance of Sterling to 503 served to offset weakness of wheat quotations at Liverpool, and tended to emphasize talk that inflation possibilities at Washington had not been disposed of altogether as a grain market stimulus. It also was pointed out that any advance in Canadian dollars, and would work against wheat imports into the United States from Canada. Bulls contended further, more that the European political situation appeared again becoming acute, especially should oil sanctions against Italy be enforced.

Poultry and Eggs Profitable Produce

Raising Chickens for early marketing is usually a profitable venture. True, it requires some work, but it pays. To get the best out of it, an early start should be made.

Maintaining flocks for the production of eggs also is profitable, and this too requires care and work in order to produce the egg that brings the better prices.

The STRANGE CASE of JULIA CRAIG

by Nard Jones

Copyright NEA 1935

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JULIA CRAIG, secretary to GEORGE WOODFORD, lawyer, is ambitious to become a night club singer. Julia shares an apartment with AMY SANDERS.

PETER KEMP, young lawyer, is in love with Julia, but they quarrel and she tells him everything is over between them.

Woodford gives a yacht party and asks Julia to come as a singer. The guests include CINTIA LEE, dancer; MRS. JOSEPH, widow; HUGO NASH, and ROYAL NESBITT.

Julia goes, later regrets it. The yacht lands at Evergreen Island where Woodford has a lodge. Julia meets TOM PAYSON, camping nearby, who offers to help her get away.

She goes to hunting and Nesbitt is injured. Woodford's party leaves immediately to get him to a doctor.

Back home, Julia is hired to sing on TONY LATTI's gambling ship. Tom Payson comes to the ship frequently. One night, after winning heavily, Tom is threatened by her and Julia escapes in a speedboat.

Woodford telephones Julia and next morning she goes to his office. He asks if she has told anyone what happened on the yacht cruise.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XVIII

WOODFORD stirred uncomfortably in his chair. "You're sure you've told no one besides this Miss Sanders who shares an apartment with you?"

Julia hesitated, wondering how much she should reveal to Woodford. She remembered having told Tom Payson that Nesbitt had been injured, but she hadn't told him of Nesbitt's disappearance from the yacht. Suddenly she decided to play safe, to hold from Woodford the fact that Payson knew something of the cruise of the Wood Nymph.

"No . . .," Julia said slowly. "I'm quite sure I've mentioned it to no one else."

Woodford got up from his chair and walked to the window. He stood silent a moment, looking out. Then quickly he turned to Julia again. "When did you tell Miss Sanders?"

"Only last night."

Woodford's relief was like a mask dropped suddenly over his worried features. "Then she can't have had much time to talk," he said.

"Amy doesn't talk idly," defended Julia. "But why all this fretting over what I've said about the trip, Mr. Woodford? Is this why you asked me to come here?"

"Yes," Woodford answered quickly. "It's extremely important that you or your friend say nothing about the cruise of the Wood Nymph to Evergreen Island. I want you to get in touch with her immediately, and advise her to keep quiet."

"But . . .," Julia's heart sank at the inference his words conveyed, "but why, Mr. Woodford?"

He faced her squarely. "Julia, you've worked in a law office. You know very well that more than one business has been ruined—or at least badly harmed—by the thoughtless babble of some employee. This is a similar situation."

"I see, Mr. Woodford," Julia stood up, certain that he was lying. "Then that's all you want to see me about?"

HE nodded. "Can I depend on you?" He reached into his

Coughlin's Battle With Chicago Park Board Before Court

William Hale Thompson and John S. Schnepf Cases are on Docket

Springfield, Ill.—(P)—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin's court battle to force Chicago park commissioners to let him speak at Soldier field headed the docket of the Illinois supreme court, which convened today for its first 1936 session.

On the advisement docket, the case was ready for a decision at the February term.

The park board appealed from a writ of mandamus issued by Superior Court Judge James J. Kelly of Cook county in favor of the Detroit radio priest, who sought last summer to address followers of his National Union for Social Justice at the big lakefront stadium.

A permit for the gathering was denied by the board on the grounds his address would be controversial and political propaganda.

The affairs of two former mayors, John S. Schnepf of Springfield and William Hale Thompson of Chicago, are involved in two other cases among more than 100 on the new term's docket.

Schnepf's appeal from his conviction in Sangamon county circuit court was on the advisement docket with 103 other cases. Schnepf contended the evidence did not warrant his conviction for embezzlement and that the statute of limitations made it illegal.

Attorney General Otto Kerner brought the action against Thompson, seeking to set aside an appellate court ruling in a suit to force him to account for $31,131 of funds raised for Mississippi flood sufferers in 1931.

Another new case is an appeal of the "Farm Foundation" against a DuPage county court decision ordering the organization to pay a $122,570 inheritance tax on the $500,000 left by the late Alexander Legge to establish the foundation.

One sales tax case is before the tribunal, involving the collection of the levy on false teeth and dental supplies. It was appealed from Cook county circuit court.

On Thursday, Feb. 13, the court will admit the February class of candidates to the practice of law. First oral arguments will be heard the following day.

Expect Some G.O.P. Candidates to Quit

Harmony Conference Fails to Cut Down Field

Springfield, Ill.—(P)—The long line of downstate Republican candidates for governor was watched today for signs of agreements or withdrawals in the wake of the "harmony" conference, which failed to cut down the field.

With no mention of individual endorsements, the meeting of county chairmen yesterday saw unanimous adoption of a resolution declaring for a wide open primary and pledging united support of the GOP nominees, regardless of what faction they belong to or whether they live in Chicago or downstate.

The resolution was sponsored by friends of C. Wayland Brooks of Chicago, who claimed the support of 46 of the 101 downstate chairmen.

Except for Brooks, the candidates on the ground did not comment on the "harmony" conference, the leaders of which had hoped for an agreement on a downstate candidate.

Meeting in the corridors of the same hospital this week they exchanged congratulations. Both had become fathers at the same time.

Wadsworth Amused By G.O.P. Rumors

New Yorker Says He Knows Nothing About Combine

Washington—(P)—Representative Wadsworth of New York laughed today at reports that he had been mentioned as a vice-presidential nominee on the Republican ticket behind Governor Landon of Kansas for the presidency. Chairman Fletcher of the G.O.P. also said he had heard nothing of it.

"I know of no organized movement in which my name is connected for any position," Wadsworth said. "The combination probably is guess work."

Suggested by some as a possible presidential candidate, he said the presidential candidate comes from the west, the vice-presidential candidate comes from the east.

"I have not been approached on that matter at all," Wadsworth said.

NO NOTHING BUT GOOD TOWN, MAYOR DECLARES

Denton, Neb.—(P)—Mayor Walter W. Hocking of Denton, a village of about 100 persons, wrote to the state fire marshal at Lincoln:

"Dear Sir—You asked for information about the fire department. Here it is: We have no department, no chief, no waterworks, and very little water. Nobody sick, nobody on relief, nobody without a job, nobody hungry."

Kiwanis To Hear Sidney Story On U. S. Neutrality

Director Of Merchant Marine League Will Address Club Thursday Noon

Sidney Story, regional director for the Great Lakes States, United States Merchant Marine League, Headquarters, Washington, D. C. and also advocate for the last 25 years of the Great Lakes to Gulf Waterway and of the Great St. Lawrence Seaway, will address the members of the local Kiwanis club, Thursday noon, Feb. 6. Mr. Story has for long years travelled the nations of this western continent. He has championed the proposed Nicaragua canal. Also the Panama canal, the Monroe Doctrine and Pan American reciprocity. He will speak on the Italo, Ethiopian conflict and why the United States should not be drawn into another World War.

Mr. Story organized several steamship lines before and after the World War. He was accredited by business interests, carrying credentials from Washington to Latin America on a special mission to secure the co-operation of South America in the development of steamship service with the U. S.

He was in the service of the United States shipping board during the World War. He had a son, Edward Burthe Story, in the U. S. World War over in France.

Mr. Story's paternal ancestors came from England in 1637 to Massachusetts, and his maternal forebears to Louisiana from France 135 years ago. On his maternal side, he is related to Ferdinand de Lesseps, the builder of the Suez canal.

His ancestor, Dr. Elisha Story, of Boston, was a member of the Boston tea party. Mr. Story is conversant with Spanish, French, Portuguese and Italian, as with his mother tongue (English). His ambition is to develop in the near future, a steamship between Chicago via the St. Lawrence Seaway to the ports across the Atlantic to South America.

He is also organizing a Pan-American Reciprocity League, the object and purpose being to weld together the spirit of all the Americans into bonds of amity, that will make for commerce, as well as peace and prosperity. Latin America produces all the raw materials U. S. needs to feed her factories and the U. S. manufactures all the finished products Latin America requires. The nations of the New World have the same constitutions and are inspired by the same ideals. This hemisphere is civilization's last frontier!

See Possibility Of Spring Flood At Beardstown

Ice, Snow In Illinois River Watershed May Cause Much Water

Beardstown, Ill., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Concern was felt here today over the probability of a spring flood because of the great amount of ice and snow in the vast Illinois river watershed. River men predicted the river would rise to heights above normal during the coming months because "unusual spring freshets generally follow unusual winters."

"A possible flood depends upon how the ice and snow goes off," said Chief Assistant Engineer James R. Fuller of the United States Engineers Corps at Peoria, who has spent about 40 years on the Illinois river.

"If we have a sudden warm spell, followed by some rains, there will be plenty of water. If it turns warm gradually and there is little rain, the ice will honeycomb and break up gradually and the snow will disappear without the usual sudden thaw and run-offs."

Reports of heavy snow and ice in the regions of the Fox, Du Page, Des Plaines and Kankakee rivers, tributaries of the Illinois, added to the uneasiness. Much rainfall last year also contributed to the alarm over possible flood waters.

Since 1933, levee districts have been strengthened and set back to confine overflows to the main channels. A seawall built after the flood of 1932 is expected to aid substantially in protecting this city and surrounding territory.

Low Temperature Holds Ice, Snow On Local Streets

Traffic Moves Slowly Over Icy Surfaces; Roads In Bad Condition

Jacksonville traffic continued to move cautiously on ice covered streets Tuesday as low temperatures held the street and snow transformed them into lanes of glass-like surfaces. The ice was held as another cold wave was borne in on a sharp northwest wind in this section early yesterday morning. Only in a few places which were protected and upon which the sun shone was the ice loosened.

The mercury dropped to one degree above zero at seven o'clock yesterday morning, rose to 33 degrees above during the day and dropped again until it reached zero at six o'clock last night. It was expected that the temperature would drop to between five and ten degrees below zero during the night.

The barometer which staged a record drop Monday rose to 30.12 by last night. The low for Monday was 29.45, and at seven o'clock yesterday morning it had reached 29.60. At six o'clock last night it stood at 30.12.

Roads throughout the state are covered with ice, and traveling is dangerous. Unless one is an experienced driver and is compelled to venture forth, it is advisable to stay off the roads.

Springfield reports conditions pretty much the same all over the state. A two-inch snow fell at Peoria, and the road between that city and Lincoln was closed yesterday morning on account of drifts. However, snow plows were working.

The route between this city and St. Louis is covered with ice, but drivers have been thrown on the slopes and worst stretches. Even with this aid, the road is none too good.

The wind shift occurred about 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning. There is no sign of relief from the intense cold, which is evidently another "polar front" sweeping through the middle west. This time the roads are frozen in an even worse condition than they were during the previous cold snap.

Road conditions were reported by the Jacksonville Auto Club. Weather information was furnished by the Norbury weather station here.

Interment was made in Carrollton City cemetery.

Mrs. Postlewait was the wife of Justice Walter Postlewait, who with one son Walter Jr., survive. A loved niece, Mrs. Roger Gerhart of St. Louis, also survives. On January 30, 1886, the Ashland Baptist Church was organized with about a dozen members. Rev. W. W. Hay was chosen for pastor and services were held in the town hall, the skating rink, and even occasionally under the trees of Arnold's apple orchard.

A meeting house was built on a lot donated by Richard Arnold, and the dedicatory services were held October 31, 1886, with Elder E. S. Graham giving the services. In 1905, the present church was erected, the building committee consisting of J. H. Hubbs, chairman; F. C. Walbaum, treasurer; N. C. Sinclair, clerk; Charles Zirkle and J. O. Robinson. Of this group only two are living—Mr. Hubbs, who lives in Jacksonville, and Mr. Sinclair who is still a member of the congregation. The building was dedicated Sunday, June 25, and the service was a memorial to William Walbaum whose death had occurred Jan. 5, 1905, and whose generosity and unfailing interest had made possible the new church. The memorial address was delivered by Rev. R. B. McCormick, the dedicatory sermon by Rev. E. B. Rodgers, and the evening sermon by Rev. T. H. Marsh, of Jacksonville.

Pastors in charge of the church's history included—in order of service—Rev. W. W. Hay, Elder J. R. Spanghorne, Elder George Hart, Elder W. P. Clark, Rev. A. A. Scruggs, Rev. W. B. McCormick, Rev.
